

CILTHK 50th Anniversary Seminar Series

Evolution of Transport and Logistics in Hong Kong for 50 years

Episode Two: Sea Passenger & Cargo

The Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport in Hong Kong (CILTHK), founded in 1968, is celebrating its 50th Anniversary this year. To commemorate this momentous occasion, we organised a 50th Anniversary Seminar Series to illustrate and appraise the evolution of the transport and logistics industries in Hong Kong. Selected renowned local transport & logistics companies which had been serving Hong Kong for more than 50 years will be invited to share with us their stories.

This seminar series will make up a collage of the Hong Kong Transport & Logistics development for the past 50 years. For the episode two, we are glad to have two of our organisation members (OMs), Hong Kong Ferry (Holdings) Co. Ltd. and Fat Kee Stevedores Ltd. to bring us walking through the history, development and transformation of their company and share with us their insight and interesting stories in the past and future. Members and non-members are welcome. Come and join us!

Hong Kong Ferry (Holdings) Co. Ltd.

The Hongkong & Yaumati Ferry Co. Ltd. (HYF) was established in 1923. It is part of Hong Kong Ferry (Holdings) Co. Ltd. (HKF), a listed company in the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, running diversified business including property development and investment, ship repair and maintenance, harbour cruise and ferry service.

HYF has been providing ferry service in Hong Kong for almost a century. Before cross harbour tunnels and metro were built, ferry was one of the most important modes of transportation in the city. HYF was a major ferry service provider to islanders. Going along with Hong Kong's development, HKF and HYF also adopt and develop themselves to cope with the changes. Ir. Willie Yeung, Deputy General Manager of HYF, will make a brief review of the company's history and its transformations throughout the years.

Fat Kee Stevedores Ltd.

Founded in 1949, Fat Kee Stevedores Ltd. (FKS) is a long established logistics operator in Hong Kong providing high quality services in land and sea transportation, distribution centre operations, supply chain solutions and waste logistics management. FKS has witnessed the changes of development in Hong Kong and itself transformed from a small set up which relied substantially on manual labour to today's multi-disciplinary organisation. In the presentation, FKS will share her experience on morphing itself with Hong Kong, and how it positions itself to tackle the challenges and grasp the opportunities ahead.
