HONG KONG MARITIME WEEK 2021 CLOSED ON AN UPBEAT NOTE

Hong Kong Maritime Week (HKMW) 2021, the city's premier maritime event, was successfully concluded on 6 November. With the staunch support from the industry, a total of 38 activities were organised by 43 local and international maritime bodies during the Week, ranging from conferences, forums, and seminars to visits, competitions, games and tours.

Officiating at the opening ceremony of HKMW 2021, the Chairman of the Hong Kong Maritime and Port Board (HKMPB) and Secretary for Transport and Housing, Mr Chan Fan, Frank, said "Being an international maritime centre, Hong Kong is not immune from global challenges faced by other port cities, particularly the disruptions caused by the pandemic. We put public health first and foremost; we also endeavour to do whatever we can to help ensure a smooth and steady flow of goods across the globe, with our port operating ceaselessly round the clock. Besides, we also facilitate sea crew changes, bunkering and re-provisioning in Hong Kong."

A number of the activities this year were delivered in hybrid format. If you have missed any of them, you may visit the websites of individual organisers to catch up the discussion.

Finally, we would like to take this opportunity to thank all the activity organisers for making HKMW 2021 a success despite the uncertainties and challenges brought by the pandemic. We would also like to thank all those who took time to take part in it, be it physically or virtually. We look forward to seeing you all again in HKMW 2022!
